Name	Description	Duration	Data type
_hjSessionUser{site_id}	Hotjar cookie that is set when a user first lands on a page with the Hotjar script. It is used to persist the Hotjar User ID, unique to that site on the browser. This ensures that behavior in subsequent visits to the same site will be attributed to the same user ID.	365 days	JSON _hjSession{site_id}	A cookie that holds the current session data. This ensues that subsequent requests within the session window will be attributed to the same Hotjar session.	30 minutes	JSON _hjClosedSurveyInvites	Hotjar cookie that is set once a user interacts with an External Link Survey invitation modal. It is used to ensure that the same invite does not reappear if it has already been shown.	365 days	Boolean true/false _hjDonePolls	Hotjar cookie that is set once a user completes a survey using the On-site Survey widget. It is used to ensure that the same survey does not reappear if it has already been filled in.	365 days	Boolean true/false _hjMinimizedPolls	Hotjar cookie that is set once a user minimizes an On-site Survey widget. It is used to ensure that the widget stays minimized when the user navigates through your site.	365 days	Boolean true/false _hjShownFeedbackMessage	Hotjar cookie that is set when a user minimizes or completes Incoming Feedback. This is done so that the Incoming Feedback will load as minimized immediately if the user navigates to another page where it is set to show.	365 days	Boolean true/false _hjSessionTooLarge	Causes Hotjar to stop collecting data if a session becomes too large. This is determined automatically by a signal from the WebSocket server if the session size exceeds the limit.	Session	Boolean true/false _hjSessionRejected	If present, this cookie will be set to '1' for the duration of a user's session, if Hotjar rejected the session from connecting to our WebSocket due to server overload. This cookie is only	Session	Boolean true/false applied in extremely rare situations to prevent severe performance issues.

_hjSessionResumed	A cookie that is set when a session/recording is reconnected to Hotjar servers after a break in connection.	Session	Boolean true/false _hjid	Hotjar cookie that is set when the customer first lands on a page with the Hotjar script. It is used to persist the Hotjar User ID, unique to that site on the browser. This ensures that behavior in subsequent visits to the same site will be attributed to the same user ID.	365 days	UUID _hjRecordingLastActivity	This should be found in Session storage (as opposed to cookies). This gets updated when a user recording starts and when data is sent through the WebSocket (the user performs an action that Hotjar records).	Session	Numerical Value (Timestamp) _hjTLDTest	When the Hotjar script executes we try to determine the most generic cookie path we should use, instead of the page hostname. This is done so that cookies can be shared across subdomains (where applicable). To determine this, we try to store the _hjTLDTest cookie for different URL substring alternatives until it fails. After this check, the cookie is removed.	Session	Boolean true/false _hjUserAttributesHash	User Attributes sent through the Hotjar Identify API are cached for the duration of the session in order to know when an attribute has changed and needs to be updated.	Session	Hash _hjCachedUserAttributes	This cookie stores User Attributes which are sent through the Hotjar Identify API, whenever the user is not in the sample. Collected attributes will only be saved to Hotjar servers if the user interacts with a Hotjar Feedback tool, but the cookie will be used	Session	JSON regardless of whether a Feedback tool is present.

_hjLocalStorageTest	This cookie is used to check if the Hotjar Tracking Script can use local storage. If it can, a value of 1 is set in this cookie. The data stored in_hjLocalStorageTest has no expiration time, but it is deleted almost immediately after it is created.	Under 100ms	Boolean true/false _hjIncludedInPageviewSample	This cookie is set to let Hotjar know whether that user is included in the data sampling defined by your site's pageview limit.	30 minutes	Boolean true/false
_hjIncludedInSessionSample	This cookie is set to let Hotjar know whether that user is included in the data sampling defined by your site's daily session limit.	30 minutes	Boolean true/false _hjAbsoluteSessionInProgress	This cookie is used to detect the first pageview session of a user. This is a True/False flag set by the cookie.	30 Minutes	Boolean true/false _hjFirstSeen	This is set to identify a new user's first session. It stores a true/false value, indicating whether this was the first time Hotjar saw this user. It is used by Recording filters to identify new user sessions.	Session	Boolean true/false _hjViewportId	This stores information about the user viewport such as size and dimensions.	Session	UUID
_hjRecordingEnabled	This is added when a Recording starts and is read when the recording module is initialized to see if the user is already in a recording in a particular session.	Session	Boolean true/false

4. PURPOSE, METHOD AND LEGAL BASIS OF DATA MANAGEMENT

4.1 General privacy policies

The data management of the activities of United Call Centers Kft. (Ltd.) is based on voluntary consent and legal authorization. In cases of data management based on voluntary consent, data subjects may withdraw their consent at any stage of the processing.

In certain cases the processing, storage and transmission of a given set of data is required by law, of which we notify our clients separately.

We would like to draw the attention of the users and clients to the fact that if they do not provide their own personal data to United Call Centers Kft. (Ltd.), are obliged to obtain the consent of the data subject.

Our data protection principles are in line with current data protection legislations, in particular:

- Act CXII. of 2011 – on Informational Self-determination and Freedom of Information (Infotv.);
- Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46/EC (General Data Protection Regulation);
- Act V. of 2013 – in Hungarian Civil Code;
- Act C. of 2000 – on Accounting;
- Act LIII of 2017 – Prevention and Combating of Money Laundering and Terrorist Financing;
- Act CCXXXVII. of 2013 – on Credit Instituitons and Financial Enterprises.

5. STORAGE OF DATA

Your personal data (which can be connected to you) may be processed in the following way: on the one hand through internet connection, technical data (regarding the websites you visited with your computer, browser and IP) will be automatically generated in our computer system; on the other hand You may provide your name, contact information or other details if you wish to contact us personally while using the website.

Data to be recorded during the operation of the system: those data of subject's computer which are generated during the voting and which are recorded by the system of United Call Centers Kft. (Ltd.) as an automatic result of the technical processes. Without the data subject's separate statement or action the automatically recorded data will be automatically saved at every sign in and sign out.

This data may not be linked to other personal user data – except in cases required by law. The data can only be accessed by staff belonging to the human resources department of United Call Centers Kft. (Ltd.).

6. DATA TRANSMISSION, DATA MANAGEMENT, THIRD PARTIES OF DATA KNOWLEDGE

United Call Centers Kft. (Ltd.) does not use a third party or data processor for the scope of data obtained during the contact points recorded above.

Those who become acquainted with the data are exclusively all employees belonging to the human resources departments of United Call Centers Kft. (Ltd.).

7. RIGHTS OF THE INDIVIDUAL AND ENFORCEMENT OF RIGHTS

The individual can request information about handling of their personal data, request correction of their personal data and – except for mandatory data processing – request their deletion, withdrawal, and enforce their rights of data transfer and right of objection via the method indicated during data collection, and via the above contact details of the data processor.

7.1 Right to be informed

United Call Centers Kft (Ltd) takes appropriate measures to provide the respective individuals all information mentioned in article 13. and 14. of the GDPR related to handling personal data and all briefings according to articles 15-22. and 34. in a concise, transparent, understandable and easily accessible format, composed in a clear and articulate way. Individuals can contact the data processor via adatvedelem@unitedcallcenters.hu with their questions pertaining to data protection, their observations, and they can enforce their rights described in this document via this address as well.

7.2 Right of access

The affected individual has the right to receive feedback from the data processor regarding whether their personal data is being processed, and if such a process is ongoing, they have the right to access the personal data and the following information: the purpose of data processing, the categories of the respective personal data; the recipients or category of recipients whom the personal data was or will be shared, including especially recipients from third countries, and international organisations; the planned duration of personal data storage; the right of rectification, deletion or restriction of data processing and right to object; the right to submit a complaint addressed to the relevant supervisory authority; information pertaining to data sources; the fact of automated decision making, including profiling, and information related to applied logics and related understandable information, the significance of such data processing, and what foreseeable consequences it bears on the affected individual. The data processor provides information within one month maximum from the submission of request.

7.3 Right to rectification

The affected individual can request to rectify inaccurate personal data handled by United Call Centers related to them and provide missing data.

7.4 Right to erasure

The affected individual has the right in case one of the below justifications are present to request United Call Centers to delete personal data about them without any unjustified delay:

- the personal data are no longer required for the purpose they were collected for or were handled in different ways;
- the affected individual withdraws their consent forming the basis of data processing, and the data processing has no other legal basis
- the affected individual objects to data processing, and there is no legal reason with priority for data processing
- the personal data were processed illegally
- the personal data must be deleted to meet the legal requirements demanded by Union or Member State law
- the data were collected for the purpose of offering information society services

Data deletion cannot be requested if the data processing is necessary for: practicing the right of freedom of expression, the right to information; fulfilling the requirements of Union or Member State Law obligations for the procession of personal data, and due to public interest or for the completion of a task during the practice of a public authority licence conferred on the data processor; due to reasons related to public health, or archival, scientific and historical research or statistical reasons, because of public interest, or to make, enforce or protect legal claims.

7.5 Right to restrict processing

United Call Centers Kft (Ltd) restricts data processing if one of the below conditions are met:

- the affected individual disputes the precision of personal data, in this case the restriction refers to the duration which enables the review of the precision of personal data
- the data processing is illegal, and the affected individual objects to deletion of data, and instead requests the restriction of processing
- the data processor no longer requires the personal data for processing, but the affected individual requests them to make, enforce or protect legal claims; or

- the affected individual objected to data processing; in this case the restriction refers to the duration, until which it is determined whether the data processor's just causes take precedence over the affected individual's just causes.

If the data processing is restricted, the personal data with the exception of storage can only be processed with the permission of the affected individual, or to make, enforce or protect legal claims, or to protect the rights of another natural or legal person, or because of an important public interest of the Union or a Member State.

7.6 Right to data portability

The affected individual has the right to receive the personal data about themselves which they provided to the data processor in a separated, widely used, machine readable format, and transfer these data to another data processor.

7.7 Right to object

The affected individual has the right to object anytime due to reasons related to their own circumstances to data processing due to public interest or for the completion of a task during the practice of a public authority licence conferred on the data processor, or to processing required to enforce the just rights of the data processor or a third party, including profiling based on the aforementioned provisions. In case of an objection the data processor cannot handle the data any longer, except if its demanded by compelling reasons which take precedence over the interests, rights and liberties of the affected individual, or which are related to making, enforcing or protecting legal claims.

7.8 Automated decision making individual cases including profiling

The affected individual has the right to be excepted from the effect of a decision made solely based on automated data processing – including profiling – which would have a legal effect on them or affect them to a similarly significant degree.

7.9 Right to withdrawal

The affected individual has the right to withdraw their consent anytime.

7.10 Right to access to court

In case the affected individual's rights are violated they can appeal to court against the data processor. The court gives priority to the case.

7.11 Data protection authority

Complaints can be submitted to the Hungarian National Authority for Data Protection and Freedom of Information:

Name: Nemzeti Adatvédelmi és Információszabadság Hatóság
